Social Credit Party Expected Name Candidate

In view of the fact that the C.C.P. has named a candidate to contest the provincial by-election to be held in the fall and that the Independent Party has called its nominating convention for July 25, it is expected the Social Credit Party will nominate a candidate. It was learned in reliable political circles Saturday.

The Edmonton Constituency Social Credit Association will meet in the Social Credit Hall, 974 Jasper Avenue, Monday, at 8 p.m., to discuss plans for the by-election in the constituency of the late D. M. Duggan, M.L.A., Independent, Edmonton.

John Gault, president of the association, will occupy the chair. Emily E. Roper was selected as the C.C.P. candidate at the party's nominating convention held this week.

G-Men Strike At Huge Nazi Group In A.P.

NEW YORK, July 11.—(AP)—The arrest of 138 German allies, members of an organization which the government said furnished money for the return to Germany of one of eight submarine raiders who were released to American shores, was announced Saturday by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Those apprehended were 130 men and 28 women, picked up in raids Friday which touched New York City, Long Island and Westchester County, the F.B.I. said.

The 138 were identified by P. E. Foxworth, assistant F.B.I. director in charge of the New York office, as members of the German American Vocational League, or Deutsch-Amerikanische Berufsgemeinschaft. Foxworth said the alleged submarine raiders were employed in American factories for whom the organization paid passage to Germany from the United States in 1939 was Heinrich M. Heide. The Nazi Labor Front obtained a job for him in Germany at that time, Foxworth added.

Five of those arrested admitted being members of the Nazi party in Germany, Foxworth said, and the league had 2,000 members in the United States, the F.B.I. said, adding that the organization operated through 20 branches and had two publications, one in German and another in English, which were described as anti-American, anti-British and "intensely pro-Nazi."

Serbs Scoring New Successes Against Axis

ISTANBUL, Turkey, July 11.—(AP)—Yugoslav patriots of Gen. Draza Mihailovic are waging warfare on a considerable scale against the German, Italian and Bulgarian forces from mountain strongholds in southern Serbia, Yugoslav official quarters here reported today.

The latest summary of the fighting, received from the Serbian front May 28, said that after a fortnight of fighting the Axis forces had failed to take a single town in the east and Italian from the southwest.

The Yugoslav informants said that in the futile operations the Axis employed an elite SS blackshirt elite division, some German armoured units, the 16th Bulgarian division and between two and three Italian divisions.

Another major battle was reported in progress in Croatia with some 10,000 of Mihailovic's troops opposing a vastly superior force of Croats, Germans, Italians and Hungarians. Here the Germans were using planes against the Yugoslav patriots.

By HENRY C. CASSIDY

MOSCOW, July 11.—(AP)—German divisions having captured Rossosh, pressed a three-pronged offensive toward the Don river with such vigor that the Russian army newspaper Red Star announced their "developing success" today.

Marshal Timoshenko's Soviet field forces battled on against spearheads jabbed across the Don at Voronezh, and in the direction of the strategic river at Kamenskaya, 150 miles to the south; and near Linnich, 200 miles south of Voronezh.

Red Star said the Germans fighting to expand their holdings on the east bank of the Don were finding rough going because of tank traps and heavy Russian artillery fire but said the "area of fighting west of Voronezh is spreading."

Marshal Timoshenko's Kamenskaya, 45 miles south of Voronezh, was reported by the army publication to be operating under "very unfavorable and difficult conditions."

British Beat Nazis To Gun At El Alamein

LONDON, July 11.—(AP)—British military quarters expressed belief today that at El Alamein the British army had beaten Field Marshal Erwin Rommel to the gun.

A military commentator said it was indicated that the five mile advance which the Imperial forces, under Auchinleck's personal command, made yesterday was the full extent of their objective for the day.

Auchinleck's attack and a push eastward by the German-Italian forces at the southern end of the line were regarded here as independent.

Military quarters said it still was too early to tell whether Auchinleck's attack was a large-scale attempt to thrust Rommel back from Egypt or whether, in the southern part of the line, the Germans and Italians had been attempting to push eastward toward the Nile.

FRENCH ASKED BE READY FOR ALLIES' COMING

LONDON, July 11.—(AP)—In one of its periodic broadcast warnings to residents of French coastal areas, the BBC today asked Frenchmen to be ready to handle a gun because when the right time comes, Allied forces will invade the continent.

"When the time comes for British Allied forces to effect a landing on French soil, let there be as many Frenchmen as there can be to hold out as long as possible and helping hand to their liberators."

"Let every Frenchman, when the time comes, be ready to take the gun barrel on his chin."

Japs Warning Out Of European Area By Way Of Turkey

ANKARA, July 11.—(AP)—Japanese army and navy observers, businessmen, special business agents and government officials have started an exodus from Europe through Turkey, it was learned today, as they sought to avoid the eastward road home without crossing the Russian-German front.

The departures were interpreted here as part of a Japanese program to bring home all useful Japanese not strictly needed in European theaters of the war in the event of an extension of the war.

ABANDONED BY RUSS

Rososh, a waystation and factory town of 20,000 which lies 100 miles south of Voronezh, was abandoned by Soviet troops in favor of new positions after four days of fighting against tanks and motorized infantry.

Another 40 miles to the south, German detachments striking from the Irgum sector along the Donets river, the chief western tributary of the Don, engaged Russian troops in the town of Linnich, a town of 12,000.

The Soviet information bureau said four battles continued yesterday west of Voronezh, even though it had been announced that strong German formations finally forced crossings of the Don, 10 miles away, in their two-week-old push from Kursk.

"Debut" which purports to be operating clandestinely somewhere in our Middle West in order to give the American people the "truth" about the war.

Its broadcast, which began a few days after Pearl Harbor, used to be heard with "black magic" and selections from American jazz music now barred in Germany.

More recently it has opened its program with a few bars from "Carry me Back to Old Virginia" followed immediately by news "flashes" from such points as New York, Washington and Helsinki by one "Joe Scanlon," a chatty individual who apparently wants to cut into Mr. Winchell's immense radio audience. Joe keeps coming back in a flash with a flash, but he is no threat to Mr. Winchell.

"Stating 'Debut' actually is in Berlin and operates over one of the short-wave transmitters in the Arctic—a condition that will last for four or five weeks more."

Nazi planes, operating from New Britain, are said to be keeping the Allies in the belief that the food of this earth are legion and that even the large audience of the "German Freedom Station" used to have in the days when it was operating from within the country, or so most Germans who listened thought.

Perhaps this is a good time as any for a brief review of Dr. Goebbels' radio program.

CAIRO, July 11.—(AP)—Allied airmen thundered into action today with the mightiest air assault ever witnessed in the desert, in the report of British ground forces which advanced five miles on the northern sector of the El Alamein front yesterday.

A greatly strengthened enemy air force rose to challenge the violent Allied assault and dog-fights raged high above a huge expanse of desert.

The Axis force appeared to be drawing mainly on the Italians for air reinforcements, losing many of them.

REOPENED YESTERDAY

Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck requested the savage desert fight yesterday, with the drive that bent back the Axis line on the north.

A number of prisoners were captured in the thrust, which began before dawn and resulted in the Axis motorized equipment.

The thrust was accompanied by an Axis advance eastward in the desert, in the report of British mobile columns engaged this force.

ALONG RAIL LINE

The five mile advance was made along the railroad line leading west from El Alamein.

While British and German forces clashed in both the northern and southern sectors of the El Alamein front, R.A.F. fighter planes moved forward to attack Axis gun emplacements.

Large forces of enemy bombers escorted by fighters were engaged in battle by three R.A.F. planes and at least eight Axis fighters were shot down. The British mobile columns engaged this force.

Interpreting War News

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

The situation on the Don front appears black with ill portents for Marshal Timoshenko's battered southern army, although its full significance is beyond long distance estimation.

Moscow press reports fail to bring into clear focus what is happening hour by hour on a 100-mile sector of the upper Don. There seems no doubt, however, that Timoshenko has been all but cut off from direct communication northward by German surge to and across the Don in the Voronezh sector.

Moscow admits that the Red army has abandoned Rossosh, 100 miles west of Voronezh.

Rumor Cardin
To Be Offered
Cabinet Post

OTTAWA, July 11.—(CP)—The Ottawa Citizen says in a newspaper story published today "There was a strong rumor current in the capital's parliamentary circles last night that Hon. P. J. A. Cardin was to be invited to return to the cabinet to take over the duties of the minister of public works and transport."

Mr. Cardin resigned from the cabinet after the April 2 plebiscite when Prime Minister Mackenzie King announced introduction of Bill 80—the measure empowering the government to impose controls for overseas service by proclamation at any time it sees fit.

The Citizen says that "It is well known that the government is under considerable handicap in respect to the filling of the post vacated by Mr. Cardin and that his return would be welcome and might serve to help to some extent to relieve the cabinet of the strain it has been suffering from the plebiscite issue and the subsequent passage of Bill 80."

"On the other hand," the Citizen continues, "some of Mr. Cardin's friends intimate that even if strong representation were made to him to return to the cabinet, he might refuse on the grounds of the strain it would impose on his health."

The former minister could not be reached last night to comment on the persistent rumors.

THREAT TO SIBERIA

Keep your eye on any Japanese clash in a "border incident" with the Russian troops stationed in Siberia. Russia reports said of heavy new concentrations of Japanese troops in Manchuria, in addition to the 700,000 that Chungking says Japan has had there all along. Russia last fall was believed to have 400,000 troops in eastern Siberia. It is not known whether these have since been reduced—or whether some of them may have been sent to fight the Germans.

Japan has been building railroads in Manchuria the past few years—far more railroads than are necessary for ordinary commercial purposes. They are strategically routed, each branch aimed at some vital construction of strong points all along the border.

Trans-Siberian line. At the same time, however, the Russians are said to be rushing to finish the construction of strong points all along the border.

Here's the one man, reaching as an authority in Washington military circles, sees the possibility of the most few weeks.

Attack on Siberia may be expected as soon as the Japanese have progressed a little farther in south-eastern China.

Embarrassed by her successes along the Hangchow-Nanchang leg of the Cheong-Ching-Ning line, Japan may wish again at Chungking where she took such an awful beating this spring. Chungking would give her virtual control of the line between Canton and Hankow, which she holds now, and would complete a rail link between Shanghai and Singapore.

The Cheong-Ching-Ning railroad also would be vital to an attempt, forecast by some, to mop up Japan's last holdouts in the Philippines. Where are hidden the airports—among them perhaps "Shangri-La"—which Tokyo could be bombed again.

The monsoon season, that time of burning winds, is on in India, and the rural life there already gave time for enough new American troops to reach Australia, a dangerous invasion in that direction.

Vladivostok, Russia's big air and submarine base at the tip of the Siberian "appendix," has always been the Russian main base of operations in the Pacific. Russia must certainly include a quick and powerful attack on Vladivostok. It is only 665 miles from Tokyo and Yokohama.

At the same time Japan attempts a knockout attack, Vladivostok, she probably would push another force northward towards Khabarovsk, Komsomolsk, and the mouth of the Amur.

Another group could be expected to strike across neutral Mongolia, along the old caravan road, at Peking, and strike the Chinese in the eastern part of the country.

"If Vladivostok falls, it would cut off transportation to all of Russia's eastern bases—Herman Allen.

The New Caledonia Broadcasting Corporation appeals to French opinion towards the British. There is a third secret station for Britain which calls itself the "Workers Challenge." Its line is that Churchill is selling out British workers. Some of these stations have a fraction of the audience in Britain which Lord Hawke has enjoyed in his broadcasts from Hamburg during the war.

Both Rome and Berlin have set up "clandestine" radio stations in the United States. The stations are operated by German agents and are intended to spread propaganda in the United States.

believe "secret stations." Our side, if the evidence does not mind my saying so, has them too.

In general, the Axis under-estimates the ability of the country they are dealing with, they try to give the impression of disarming news.

The "New British Broadcasting Corporation" station, for instance, appears the BBC and constantly talks of "We British."

The "New Caledonia Broadcasting Corporation" which operates in the Pacific, is no different in its propaganda.

The propaganda purpose of all these stations is to stir up strife, dissension, suspicion and defection in the countries they are operating in.

Actually, their propaganda is so similar to that taken by the Berlin radio that they give themselves easily away to all the most naive.

However, Dr. Goebbels keeps them going. In the "Radio Station" they are all toward us, he uses one of the Zeeman transmitters for a half hour each evening.

He says that other "secret stations get a quarter of an hour each week on the German transmitters."

BILL DEBATED

Encouragement of Private Enterprise Declared Vital

Post-War Employment Need

OTTAWA, July 11.—(CP)—The only way to provide major employment in Canada after the war is through the encouragement of private enterprise, Conservative House Leader Hanson told the House of Commons yesterday.

Speaking in the debate on a government bill providing for the civil re-establishment of those enlisted in the forces, Mr. Hanson said that instead of tearing down private enterprise it should be built up so it would function after the war.

The bill represented interference with property and civil rights but in wartime there should not be refusal to pass such a measure.

A. McNeill (N.D.) suggested that the government should make provision that all those who joined the forces should be sure of employment after the war, and Mr. Hanson said that was not a desirable thing but the Socialist state had not been reached although it might be approaching rapidly.

When we come to it and these gentlemen have their own way to put into practice what they preach.

Information On Subsidy Received

Instructions pertaining to the payment of the six cents a pound bounty on butterfat received recently by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board have been received from Ottawa by D. H. McCullum, dairy commissioner for the provincial department of agriculture, it was reported Friday.

Producers who deliver butterfat to creameries should be advised that the dairy commissioner is the local creamery for payment of the subsidy, it was stated. Creameries in turn will receive direct payments and application forms on which they are to make application for reimbursement for the subsidy paid to producers. These instructions will be issued by the dairy commissioner's office.

Payment of the subsidy will be made through the Commodities Prices Stabilization Corporation, Ottawa, to the creameries.

Family Welfare Bureau Assists Solving Many Varied Problems

As family life is the backbone of a nation's well-being, and the key to its future, the importance of welfare work in any community cannot be over-emphasized.

The family welfare work both preventive and curative effort can produce greater happiness and constructive unity of purpose in homes.

One of much worthwhile work of this nature is the Edmonton Family Welfare Bureau, which opened as an independent agency in January of this year. Prior to that time the investigation and case work had been dealt with by the family welfare division of the Edmonton Council of Social Agencies.

Subsequently it was found that a full-time director was needed to handle the work with adequate efficiency rather than by the council which was dealing with many other phases of welfare work in the city.

In January of this year, the Edmonton Family Welfare Bureau opened its office in the Garfield building, at the northwest corner of Jasper avenue and 100 street.

APPOINTED DIRECTOR
Formerly a staff member of the Greater Vancouver Family Welfare Bureau, Miss Kathleen M. Jackson became executive-director of the Edmonton bureau.

One of the major duties of the bureau is the vaccination of horses with the vaccine which provides immunity for approximately eight months.

The bureau is unemotional and free to all persons who seek assistance and advice, whether or not they are family difficulties which have reached the breaking point, or minor adjustments are needed; whether an unhappy relationship exists between husband and wife or parents and children; whether marital disturbances are sufficient to produce a collapse of the family or whether preventive aid is necessary to overcome problems which might become overwhelming if allowed to grow.

MANY ASSISTANTS
Many women whose husbands are overseas, and whose children are being told "just wait until your father comes back from the war," profit tremendously by assistance provided by the bureau. That assistance is given directly at the request of the woman involved, or through requests from government department.

At present 40 per cent of the work handled by the local bureau deals directly with dependents of the armed services, and if the assistance is not given at the request of the family in question, it is given at the request of the dependent's allowance board, the "dependent's" Board of Trustees, or the Auxiliary Service, which is a voluntary direct-acting activities from Ottawa.

VERGE OF COLLAPSE
Some persons in need of aid come to the bureau only when the home is on the verge of collapse, months ago for the best curative work by all parties involved. Preventive work can be done if the persons will apply to the bureau at the first signs of trouble. Children with behavior problems, mothers who lack confidence in themselves and control over their children, and victims of marital disturbances—all may obtain preventive assistance from the bureau before the problems increase and get out of hand.

The Family Welfare Bureau, which is supported by the Community Chest of Edmonton, has set several objectives for its efforts.

SEVERAL AIMS
It endeavors to help in adjustment of family life, with information and advice to define, overcome, and prevent problems.

It seeks to help reorganize those persons who through poverty or emotional problems cannot direct themselves to normal and contented modes of living.

It endeavors to take part in all community programs for social betterment, seeking to destroy those things which jeopardize the important and get out of hand.

Field Day Dates
Data for field days for the discussion of farm machinery problems and the demonstration of proper adjustment and repair of farm machinery will be held at the following dates:

Field days will be held at Anderson, July 27; Ten Mile, July 28; Fairview, July 29; Northview, July 30; and Redway, July 31. After this series there will be one held at Cold Lake, Aug. 2, and another at Thermen, Aug. 4.

In the Peace River district a field day was held July 29 at Rio Grande and another at Tepee Creek, July 30. Others will be held at Buffalo Lake, July 31; Fairview, July 31; Northview, July 31; and Grimsby, July 31.

Arranged by the local district agricultural and conducted by E. F. Parkinson, Oia. These field days will provide an opportunity for farmers to gain useful information on the efficient operation of their farm machinery under wartime conditions, it was pointed out.

Progress Is Made On New Highway

Steady progress is being made on the construction of links on the Jasper-Bird River road, according to word received by C. H. Grant, P.C. president of the National Park Highway association.

The honor of being named "the most trusted musician at the United States National base at Great Lakes" was bestowed upon a former Edmontonian, Russell Oaker, announcement to this effect was made by a national white-up program coming from station WFL in Chicago. Oaker appeared with his violin, Midshipman Oaker was born here and lived here until he was 10 years old. He is now 24. He studied violin in the United States and graduated from the College. Leaving this city he took up residence in Chicago where he studied music at the Sherwin Conservatory of Music. Prior to joining the U.S. Navy he was a violinist and was employed with the Sun Assurance Company in Chicago. At the outbreak of the war he gave up the major of Chicago and city officials, including Oaker, were asked to give him a more up home appreciation.

RE-MODEL-REPAIR-AND-RE-BUILD

Planned as evidence that a storey-and-a-half house can be adequate for all the needs of the family, the Cedars is an All-Canadian Home, featuring attractive dormer windows.

Exceptional is the brightness of the living room, with windows providing three-way light and ventilation. One of the unique details of the Cedars is the fact that its gracefully sloping roof descends to a lower level, enhancing the architectural design of the structure, and making the garage inconspicuous.

Color Selector Latest Idea In Paint-Styling
The newest color selector can be used to furnish a liberal education in exterior and interior paint-color styling, and makes choosing colors easy and pleasant.

The book has samples of paint colors—125 colored sheets, which can be put up against the wall and studied. And the sheets are large enough to give you a good idea of the color. Transparent pictures of rooms in full color with clear glass pane wall areas are used in conjunction with the colored sheets.

You select a transparent picture that most nearly approximates the room you plan to paint. Place it over a color sheet and you will see the wall painted in that color.

Besides these visual aids to paint styling, the selector offers such other helps as the best colors to select for various interior exposures. It gives professional help on house exteriors. You can see, before painting, how your house will look painted in one color, trimmed in another. And it is full of pictures as to which colors minimize structural defects and which take advantage of the good details.

These selectors may be seen at almost all paint stores or decorators' shops.

Wood Graining Papers Proving Helpful Asset

A new line of structural papers has appeared which simulated wood graining so perfectly that some persons have to touch it before they are positive it is not the real thing.

These papers are available in three wood finishes. Two are in the popular light-wood finishes that do so much to lift a room out of mediocrity into an antique white oak, the other white birch. For those who like the darker woods there is an antique red-oak finish.

In addition to the wood finishes there is a natural red-brown finish with which you could simulate a fireplace, and a grayish flagstone finish with gray joints. Both of these lend themselves to interesting game-room treatments.

It is no problem to install these papers, for they can be easily to fit any wall area with knife or sponges. Wallpaper paste or a cement adhesive can be used to apply the papers to either flat or curved wall surfaces. Once hung, the paper can be washed with soap and water. Light finger marks can be removed with art gum or a wall-paper eraser.

These papers make especially good backgrounds for mirrors that must do double duty, such as bed-linen wardrobes. They come in three sizes: 3 by 4 feet, 3 by 12 feet and 3 by 24 feet.

They, like the cup in the outlet and operate it rapidly to create suction. This should clear the passage.

The Too Few Ships

The parliament at London is to hold a secret debate on shipping. That the debate is to be held behind closed doors is sufficient evidence that the real subject will be the scarcity, and what chance there is of this growing worse or less bad. That there is any prospect of it showing positive improvement in the immediate future nobody can suppose who takes note of the sinkings recorded daily.

It is stated by those who know that for every soldier who is sent to a fighting zone 20 tons of equipment must be transported from the place of production to the battle line. In addition there must be regular transport of reinforcements, replacement equipment, and supplies of all kinds in quantities for which former war effort provided.

Even without official figures on the present shipping situation, which are not likely to be given out, the bearing of available tonnage on military operations and plans is obvious. An army, for instance, would be required to land on the continent of Europe an army large enough to take over the country, and it supplied on the scale necessary for a sustained offensive?

Revolt At Headquarters?

If the Stockholm report is true that Hitler has given up personal command of the German army to Brauchschick, the shift has certainly been made. Brauchschick the Fuehrer says victory just ahead in Russia. Precisely the contrary.

Nor was it made because of any love for Brauchschick, but because of his superior abilities. Hitler kicked his colonel general off the job last fall in a way that indicated anything but affection, and a complete loss of confidence in the general's tactics. If he has been restored, it is because Adolf Hitler Brauchschick as the best of a poor choice measured against his own incomparable self.

What happened between last fall and the present time explains the restoration, if such there has been. Brauchschick wanted to withdraw the German army to the Dnieper for the winter; Hitler fired him and kept the army in the Ukraine. With the result that the army lost more men during the winter than it lost in the Ukraine last summer. The following slaughter at Sevastopol, where 300,000 more men were sacrificed to gain a fortress of no particular use.

It is at least possible that this record impressed the German generals with an estimate of the Fuehrer's military talents very much below what they actually met up the place to Brauchschick. It is likely because the generals foresaw disaster if he carried on as commander-in-chief, and were bold enough to tell him so.

More Power To Him

Nothing more timely, and nothing that is likely to be more popular, has been said at the present session of parliament than Hon. J. L. Bayly's brief advice to the members that the government is going to do "some cheese-paring".

The tax-payers are going to have to do just that in order to supply the $3,900,000,000 the Ministry must meet the year's planned expenditure. They will expect, and they have a right to expect, the Government to make the most of the money wherever there can be found an opportunity to curtail outgo on non-essentials. That the present war has been, being, or can be fought on the better side can be imagined. Certainly no former war was ever fought on that basis. Because this is the most costly of all the wars, opportunities for waste are more abundant. But for the same reason there is more to carry economy to the point of "cheese-paring" is more urgent than it ever was before.

If Mr. Bayly is going to enforce this rule upon his colleagues, he will need a lot of backing from the public—through the press and in every other practicable way. A minister of the crown must be entirely surrounded by people who want things they shouldn't get in time of war. And every supply of men, material or more members of parliament to back up his plea.

If the minister of finance is to hold the fort against the inevitable demands of the taxpayers and miners he will need all the active support the taxpayers can give him. The more force the government can bring to bear on the taxpayers, the better they will be pleased. But being pleased is not enough. They should say so in every way they can, say it loudly enough so that all parties concerned will be bound to take notice.

The Silent Front

The official silent regarding events in the European Arctic has been broken by two announcements. The first was that a Russian submarine torpedoed the German battleship Tirpitz in Barents Sea. Berlin claims that 32, or 34, or 38 Allied merchant ships of a convoy were sunk by its U-boat off the northern coast of Norway.

Subjecting the Berlin report to the discount which former announcements there have shown to be necessary, it must be assumed that perhaps a dozen ships were lost, loaded with supplies for Russia. It was another convoy which the Tirpitz and its companions were attempting to attack, since all the ships in that supply fleet got safely into Russian ports.

These glimpses convey at least some idea of the enormous volume of munitions and supplies that must be sent to the Russian front. The shipping to Russia by the northern route, and a hint also that fighting must be almost incessant at one point or another along that route. There is probably no other area in which so much fighting goes on that the world hears nothing about.

The northern route is more dangerous than that by way of the Indian ocean and the Persian gulf, the only other sea road to Russia that is open. But because it is shorter, scarcity of shipping makes it necessary to send the bulk of supplies that way. Also, supplies landed at Murmansk can be got more quickly to the battlefields where they are needed.

Those who are inclined to think the other Allies are not doing much to help Russia should picture to themselves the hundreds of ships which are plowing the northern waters every day and night, carrying supplies without which the Red Army would be helpless, and the scores of warships which have to fight a way through for them going and coming. If that stream of munitions were not kept moving, at a terrible cost in men and ships, what would happen on the eastern front?

Another thing to remember is that the supplies shipped for Russia do not all get there. An unknown quantity of them, which may amount to one-third, are sent to the bottom of the ocean, along with the ships which carry them and the scores of the men who man them, protecting warcraft. It is to be feared that in order to deliver three tanks to the front, four must be built and shipped; and other "tools" in like proportion.

Not much "glory" goes to the men who keep these ships moving to and from Britain and the United States for producing and delivering the goods at such heavy cost. But it is a glory that is being done, and only so long as it is done can the Russians fight back against their super-armies and oceans.

1922—50 Years Ago

Now with the plans for the new land, timber and registry offices received, tenders for their erection called for and the deeds for the land in the new town of Edmonton, the government was bound to believe—and it believed—that the government as a whole was not to be allowed to attempt to do so. That the government as a whole was not to be allowed to attempt to do so. That the government as a whole was not to be allowed to attempt to do so.

When the House of Commons divided 72 to 22, the government was bound to believe—and it believed—that the government as a whole was not to be allowed to attempt to do so. # Marriage And Divorce Laws Need Widest Revision

By HAROLD L. WEIR

Early this week when the House of Commons was rattling through 72 bills to dissolve as many marriages as it could, the House of Commons was rattling through 72 bills to dissolve as many marriages as it could, the House of Commons was rattling through 72 bills to dissolve as many marriages as it could.

Time was, in this country, when marriage was the culmination of one and another's growing process. Certainly it was an exacting process.

There was a fair period, now apparently quite obsolete, known as the "courtship" period. The young man and the young lady "went to town" for a year or so.

On Saturday nights they sat at a front porch while heaven sent mosquitoes to try the young man's soul—and his affection—for the young lady.

On Sunday afternoons they went for long buggy rides in the country. On Sunday nights the young man was given a preview of the family cuisine at the traditional Sunday dinner.

It should be explained that every Canadian province but Quebec had a divorce law. Quebec, it is true, had a divorce law, but it was a divorce law that was not a divorce law.

This Quebec objection to divorce was based on the fact that Quebec's religion opposed divorce. It seems to be a queer compromise between the old and the new, but it is a compromise.

Everybody played very safe. The result was that such marriages were seldom made in haste. Both the young man and the young lady knew exactly what they were doing.

They knew each other's habits, their qualities and abilities. The danger of incompatibility was reduced to a minimum. The danger of cooling affection was reduced to a minimum.

It was very disturbing to hear at the Alberta Federation of Women's Institutes that there was a divorce in the province. It was very disturbing to hear at the Alberta Federation of Women's Institutes that there was a divorce in the province.

What, then, is the remedy for that divorce is an evil we must temporarily accept?

Well, since it seems to be impossible to make divorce more difficult, one alternative is to make it easier. The House of Commons was rattling through 72 bills to dissolve as many marriages as it could.

Time was, in this country, when marriage was the culmination of one and another's growing process. Certainly it was an exacting process.

What, then, is the remedy for that divorce is an evil we must temporarily accept?

Well, since it seems to be impossible to make divorce more difficult, one alternative is to make it easier. The House of Commons was rattling through 72 bills to dissolve as many marriages as it could.

Time was, in this country, when marriage was the culmination of one and another's growing process. Certainly it was an exacting process.

There was a fair period, now apparently quite obsolete, known as the "courtship" period. The young man and the young lady "went to town" for a year or so.

On Saturday nights they sat at a front porch while heaven sent mosquitoes to try the young man's soul—and his affection—for the young lady.

On Sunday afternoons they went for long buggy rides in the country. On Sunday nights the young man was given a preview of the family cuisine at the traditional Sunday dinner.

It should be explained that every Canadian province but Quebec had a divorce law. Quebec, it is true, had a divorce law, but it was a divorce law that was not a divorce law.

This Quebec objection to divorce was based on the fact that Quebec's religion opposed divorce. It seems to be a queer compromise between the old and the new, but it is a compromise.

Everybody played very safe. The result was that such marriages were seldom made in haste. Both the young man and the young lady knew exactly what they were doing.

They knew each other's habits, their qualities and abilities. The danger of incompatibility was reduced to a minimum. The danger of cooling affection was reduced to a minimum.

Top-Notch Handicap Stars To Compete At Race Meet

Leading Jockeys On West Circuit To Pilot Mounts: Track In Fine Condition

Leading handicap horses on the Prairie Racing Circuit will come to Edmonton for the six day race meeting sponsored by the Edmonton Exhibition in connection with the summer fair.

Race Chairman

More than 275 horses will ship from Calgary at the conclusion of the meeting there. A large number of horses that have never raced before will be on hand here as Starter Jim Donovan releases the spring in the Cowell starting gate to send the handicap winging in the first race on Monday night.

Announcement was made by Percy W. Abbott, K.C., managing director of the Association, that the daily double betting would be on the first and second races throughout the week instead of on the first and third races as heretofore.

HANDICAP STARS

Amongst the handicap stars that will be here are: Pompey, My Feng, winner of the 1940 and 1941 runs of the race. Polly Park, handicapper at Winnipeg, Mickey's Best, Kilmarnock, Andean, Happy Dinah, Sweeney, Sky Grey, Contribution, Battledore, Dealer, Sable Gift, Royal Memory, Black Memory, Mr. Finn, Sun Madras and Glad Hand.

As usual at the Edmonton meeting Judge G. W. Schilling will feature many long distance races. Some of the best class of performers seen at the Winnipeg meeting will be shipped to Edmonton. These include Glad Hand, Knock, Cracked, Ancient Rites, Royal Memory, Mr. Finn and Polly Park.

SKILLED JOCKEYS

Amongst the jockeys scheduled to attend the Edmonton meeting are: R. Summers, sensation of the 1942 season; W. Young, J. Sept, J. Sweeney, R. Russell, Freddie Solomon, H. McGahan, G. Morris, R. Barcroft, R. Johnston, G. Gledhill, E. Gledhill and N. Northcott.

R. Barcroft is the son of Richard Barcroft, well-known Edmontonian who distributes the over-night entries at the track during the race meeting. This youngster, who was a jockey for his father, is the Edmonton spring show several years ago, is one of the most promising apprentice riders in the game. He won his first race at Calgary at the Cowell spring meeting, and followed this up with several successes at Winnipeg. He was about the winner of the first race on opening day at Calgary, and has been in the winners circle at least once each successive day.

The W. Young coming here is the best horse in his maiden here last year, and then went on to be the sensation of the Western Canada Fair circuit. Horse racing has met with marked success throughout Canada and the United States this year. The recent

Lauds Attractions

Fred W. Kemp, chairman, attractions committee, who viewed the grandstand attractions at Calgary and pronounced them the finest, clearest and most colorful grandstand show ever presented in western Canada.

Winning meetings were the most successful held at the Manitoba capital since the boom year of 1933. Both attendance and pari-mutual play showed large increases, and much of the same picture has prevailed during the entire racing at Calgary.

As usual the Cowell starting gate will be used to set the horses away in the seven daily races. The in-the-belly will be used to eliminate the human factor in the close finishes.

The track is in first class shape, and fast times should be secured in all races. Workmen have been busy on the track for the past several weeks, and reported on Saturday that the entire plant was in first class condition and ready to handle record crowds.

The entrance to the grandstand for the races will be from the north-east corner of the midway. A passageway has been built into the grandstand to keep the public from trespassing on the R.C.A.F. property.

Pitons coming to the grounds will be admitted at the 112 and 113 avenue gates and also at the main pedestrian entrance at the end of the street railway terminal in the exhibition grounds.

Police Warn Of 'Undesirable' At Exhibition

Edmonton wants Exhibition visitors to enjoy themselves at the big annual show and for that reason Chief Constable Matthew Blackwood has drawn up a few simple rules to assist visitors who will come to the city for fair week.

In previous years police have received some complaints concerning lost and stolen property and accidents which marred the holiday for the visiting public. The instructions set out below will be of assistance and reduce the complaints.

A holiday week, such as the exhibition always brings a lot of undesirable to a city, including pickpockets, petty thieves and crooked gamblers.

WARNING GIVEN

To guard against these criminals visitors are asked to heed the following warnings:

Do not engage in card games with strangers.

Do not "flash" money in public. Do not carry handbags loosely. Light-fingered pick-pockets are clever. Guard against them by carrying your money in an inside pocket and pin what money you do not wish to spend into one of your pockets.

Better still, if you are at a hotel, leave your money with the management for safe-keeping.

If at the race watch out for smooth-talkers who will tell you which horse will win. They probably never see him again. Do not let a stranger have your money to buy mutual tickets for you. You will probably never see him again.

When you leave your room lock the door. Unattended doors are an invitation to thieves.

HEAVY TRAFFIC

Traffic will be particularly heavy during the exhibition week and careful driving and strict obedience to traffic signs and lights will reduce the number of accidents.

Watch parking regulations. Do not trespass on the R.C.A.F. property.

Pitons coming to the grounds will be admitted at the 112 and 113 avenue gates and also at the main pedestrian entrance at the end of the street railway terminal in the exhibition grounds.

Steno Shortage Is Causing Problem

Acceptance of positions with the Dominion Government in Ottawa by western stenographers is causing shortages of staffs in business offices of the west.

Through advertisements appearing in papers throughout the prairie provinces, civil service agents are encouraging the western steno to go to Ottawa, promising $51 a month and transportation to the capital, for those who pass the usual civil service examinations.

In the west, the average salary for a girl stenographer is about $15 a week. The war ceiling made it impossible for employers to hold staffs who think that $11 a month in Ottawa is preferable to $60 a month at home.

Numerous girls are taking positions with the British Purchasing Commission in Washington, as well, thus further depleting stenographer staffs in the west.

Glen Gray Has Notable Record In Junior Golf

By HENK GORDON

Winner of the central Alberta golf title, Glen Gray of the Mayfair Golf and Country Club has had a hanker after a record that many a professional golfer would be proud to possess. Regarded by the experts as an unusually promising player, Glen is expected to win many future titles.

Here in Regina, Glen came west with his parents to Calgary when still a small child and it was there that his golfing career started, under Mr. Hunter of the Prince Rupert Golf Club. It was at the age of nine years that Glen commenced his training in earnest. His first major triumph came last year when he won the provincial junior championship. At all rounds, Glen has always been counted on to add a little extra power to any team he is a member of. An outstanding player with the Strathcona High school team (club and hockey) Glen keeps in trim for summer golfing days when he defends his titles.

Chileans Honor Historian And Educator Arana

Much of our information about Chile comes from a two-volume history of Chile by Diego Barros Arana, an educator and historian who achieved fame in newspaper work and public service.

It became increasingly in political regard as a youth. His first important work was published when he was 19 years old.

Chile honored Arana posthumously in the 1941 census, which commemorates the 400th anniversary of the founding of Santiago.

Arana continued to write during his active years, and in 1870 at the age of 29 was elected to a position in the National Institute upon his return to Chile in 1863.

While, however, for a historian, he was not known for his political views. He was known for his historical material and writing nationalistic views. Four years later he was reappointed and was named rector of the National Institute upon his return to Chile in 1863.

With regular meetings numbered for the summer months, members of the International Young People's group held a hike on Friday evening. The young people met at the Garrison corner and spent the evening on the river. Miss Deary Major was in charge of arrangements.

Coast Children Start Silk Worm Industry

VICTORIA, July 11.—(CP)—Settlements of 40 degrees Fahrenheit until the spring when the mulberry trees are budding when they are hatched out in a temperature of 70 degrees. A cardboard box in a living room provides the incubator for a home culture.

After going through various stages of molt the silkworm develops into a rearing caterpillar that sheds its skin and produces a silken cocoon. The cocoon is then reared to a pupa and finally to a moth.

Sponsor of the scheme is Cecil French, Victoria veterinarian, who furnished the eggs to schools along with instructions based on a life-time of experience. As the supply of mulberry trees is not sufficient to support a large industry, he has distributed seeds to parks and school officials for planting.

GOT 16000 EGGS

As a boy in England French made a hobby of sericulture and continued it later at Washington, D.C. where he graduated several years before coming to Victoria in 1914. For the current project he obtained 16,000 silkworm eggs from sources in Washington and from Lady Hark Dyer, who has a large silk farm in England.

Chile honored Arana posthumously in the 1941 census, which commemorates the 400th anniversary of the founding of Santiago.

Murder In Ferry Command

By A. W. O'Brien

Edmonton, Canadian Intelligence Department, is on the way to a new chapter in its history. It is now a city of mystery and intrigue. The story of the murder in the ferry command is a tale of suspense and drama.

ALL seemed like a chapter out of "Drecks"—or a cheap horror movie. But the awful thing lying in the box was real. The right hand dropped off Lemmy Stiller's body. The stump ended a clean back blow, as with a sharp axe.

Clyde Dawson shook off a sudden wave of repulsion at the sudden situation. A little from air would have helped but the post holes were deep. Abruptly he laid the body, propped into his seat until he found a flask, flipped off the cap and drank deeply. A cigarette followed and the investigator drew a deep breath.

"That's better," he spoke aloud. "Now let's see what poor Lemmy's hand will tell."

Using a towel, Dawson picked the hand out of the box and laid it around slowly. These were common things, old in its shape, but the fingers were just as strong as ever. Dawson, after ordering Stiller's body kept in refrigeration pending further investigation, had finally released it for burial only two minutes ago.

Had the unknown individual killed Dawson in the first place, as the graveyard by breaking into the small jail to get the hand in an attempt to solve the "Drecks" case?

Dawson shook his head. No, that didn't make sense either; at that time he had been in the middle of the train. He had been in the middle of the train when the hand was found. He had been in the middle of the train when the hand was found.

"Let's stick to military terms and cut out the 'Drecks'." Dawson said. "Let's stick to military terms and cut out the 'Drecks'." Dawson said. "Let's stick to military terms and cut out the 'Drecks'." Dawson said.

Dawson hopped to his feet, packed the hand carefully and laid it under a bunk. Leaving the light turned on, he slipped quietly into the passageway and walked up to the captain's quarters.

The captain greeted his credentials and Dawson explained without mentioning the hand. In two minutes the purser had brought the hand aboard on which the man was killed on the passengers.

As I understand it, the purser repeated, "You are asking a man, who came from St. John's on the same train, the next day, to come down to the ferry command. But he has been eliminated many other passengers from the train. The purser repeated, "You are asking a man, who came from St. John's on the same train, the next day, to come down to the ferry command. As long as you were comfortable, sir... Here is some coffee for you. The ship is two hours late on account of the fog. I'll bring you some hot water for shaving."

Dawson was in the captain's cabin when the Canadian immigration men came aboard at the Cape Breton Island port in Nova Scotia. He knew both and gave them the names of the four men he wanted delayed under any pretext. They agreed.

No wishing to arouse the wanted man's interest, Dawson avoided talking to the immigration men or ship's officers in front of other passengers. He remained in the captain's quarters while the queue formed in the main lounge to file by the two desks at which the immigration men sat.

He didn't have long to wait. The purser entered with a steward and who was carrying a small box. He had been waiting with what looked like black ink.

"Here's only curious item we have found, Mr. Dawson," the cabin boy said. "It's a small box, full of a very thick ink. His name is Paul Dawson, I believe."

The investigator hit the table with his fist. "You've solved a puzzle for me," Dawson said. "The box is full of a very thick ink. His name is Paul Dawson, I believe."

"Here's only curious item we have found, Mr. Dawson," the cabin boy said. "It's a small box, full of a very thick ink. His name is Paul Dawson, I believe."

The investigator hit the table with his fist. "You've solved a puzzle for me," Dawson said. "The box is full of a very thick ink. His name is Paul Dawson, I believe."

"That's it," Dawson said. "I'll be down to the ferry command. But he has been eliminated many other passengers from the train. The purser repeated, "You are asking a man, who came from St. John's on the same train, the next day, to come down to the ferry command. But he has been eliminated many other passengers from the train."

"That's all right," Dawson said. "I'll be down to the ferry command. But he has been eliminated many other passengers from the train. The purser repeated, "You are asking a man, who came from St. John's on the same train, the next day, to come down to the ferry command. But he has been eliminated many other passengers from the train."

As long as you were comfortable, sir... Here is some coffee for you. The ship is two hours late on account of the fog. I'll bring you some hot water for shaving."

Dawson was in the captain's cabin when the Canadian immigration men came aboard at the Cape Breton Island port in Nova Scotia. He knew both and gave them the names of the four men he wanted delayed under any pretext. They agreed.

No wishing to arouse the wanted man's interest, Dawson avoided talking to the immigration men or ship's officers in front of other passengers. He remained in the captain's quarters while the queue formed in the main lounge to file by the two desks at which the immigration men sat.

He didn't have long to wait. The purser entered with a steward and who was carrying a small box. He had been waiting with what looked like black ink.

"On To Victory" Colorful, Outstanding Entertainment*World-Famous Stars Of London, New York Stage
In Variety Of Hit Acts

A blazing fanfare of color, a torrid whirlwind of dancing, brilliant scenery, tuneful musical numbers and delightful comedy are combined in "On To Victory," the grandstand attraction at this year's summer fair which is being staged, July 13 to 18, under the auspices of the Edmonton Exhibition Association.

Director

The show is produced by Barre Carstairs, veteran Chicago showman, who has staged many night shows for the "A" circuit of Canadian exhibitions. The huge cast of the show boasts stars from stage, screen and radio. New scenery, lighting effects, new costuming and masterly showmanship will bring a new high in entertainment to this year's exhibition goers.

LONDON FAVORITES

Included in the cast are: The Four Franks, favorites of London theatre-goers for more than 52 weeks before the war, who started their stage careers before they reached their teens, have been appearing with outstanding success in leading theatres the past two seasons. They are rapid-fire tap dancers and instrumentalists. In addition, they offer a laugh-provoking burlesque on a movie love scene.

SINGING STAR

Leslie Cole, who so capably and enjoyably conducted the large cast of singers, dancers and comedians through their parts in the colorful scenes of last year's musical review, "Music On Wharf," at the Edmonton Exhibition, and whose fine lyric tenor voice proved a high spot of the show, promises even a finer performance when he and his new group of debutantes appear as the singing feature of the timely and brilliantly staged musical review.

DANCING GROUP

One of the foremost dancing groups on the stage, Bernard Brothers and The Lovely Ladies will be seen nightly as a feature of the huge and costly musical spectacle. They have played the largest theatres on the North American continent, had their name in the light-

Remember This Girl?

This is Florence Bates, one of New York's best known models who has posed for the covers of leading American magazines. Miss Bates is starred in the production Magazine Covers, a feature of the 1942 Frolicland at the Edmonton Exhibition, July 13 to 18 inclusively. Miss Bates and the many other glorious models who appear in this show will bring to life the famous paintings of modern artists.

Tommy McClure, the producer, is featuring youth, beauty and charm in his dazzling new show.

before the principal theatres of Europe, and are now making their debut on the outdoor stage. Their routine includes several sparkling dance novelties, and the last is the special production for the airtime patriotic finale of this brilliant new revue.

WONDER SEAL

"Buddy," the wonder seal, is a feature that will evoke considerable amusement as he takes a gander at the sea, during an act in which he has been carefully schooled by Walter Jenner, his trainer.

UNIQUE ACT

The top-ranking act of its kind on the European stage before the war, the Victoria Troupe's performance has never equaled. Aside from their unique stunt of playing musical instruments and riding both bicycles and unicycles at the same time, the

Most Beautiful
Girls Not Only
At Hollywood

Expanding the myth that the most beautiful girls in the world are to be found in Hollywood, J. W. "Patty" Conklin, director of the thrilling new "Frolicland" which plays at the Edmonton Exhibition July 13 to 18, brings from the studios of the most famous contemporary artists, girls and boys beauties who have posed for the best-known modern paintings of the day.

These curvaceous models, setting a standard for beauty and charm, are to be seen in "Magazine Covers," an attractive and original production of the 1942 Frolicland. It was Florence Bates who glorified the American girl but the stunning queens who appear in "Magazine Covers" could never have found need of his services. And it is assured that this one merely enters into the gay fun-theatre where modern paintings come to life in but one of four major ensembles to be presented nightly.

BROADWAY STARS

The famous dancing trio, the Denard Brothers and their Lovely Ladies as they appeared in a recent Broadway musical show, this versatile and colorful group will present their sensational dance production, "Cavalade of the Dance," as a feature of "On To Victory," a spectacular, tinglingly merry and patriotic musical extravaganza to be seen nightly before the grandstand at the Edmonton Exhibition.

the poses of the beautiful subjects who made them possible.

"Magazine Covers" would be the featured presentation along with the midway in the world but in the 1942 version of "Frolicland" it is but one of a dozen thrillingly new and astonishingly different creations.

Five chills and thrills there is nothing which surpasses the emotional Wild Animal Circus of Terrell Jacobs and his wife Dolly. Mr. Jacobs, starred formerly with Ringling Brothers, Barnum and Bailey and Hagenback-Wallace circuses, is bringing to his "Frolicland" circus this year scores of untamed lions and leopards, clever elephants, South American tigers, horses, dogs, white falcon deer, baby buffalo and other rare and talented beasts. Trapeze and wire-walking acts are on the program.

Other featured attractions include Aloha Land, native Hawaiian revue; Darkest Africa, the new Oriental Folies; Circus Side Show, the new Swim Cade and the biggest and best rides available this year.

To Cut Fall Rye
TADDER, July 11—(CP)—Cutting of fall rye is expected to start in the district 35 miles east of Lethbridge, early next week. The crop stands shoulder high and promises fine yields.

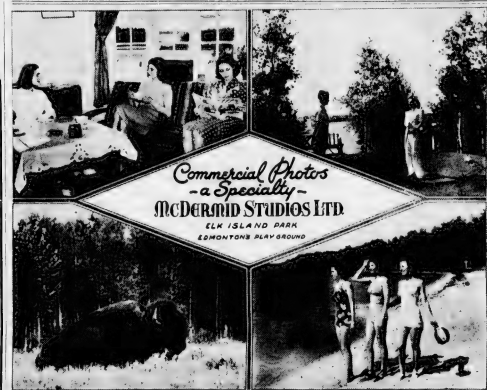

A Russian theatre recently presented the play "Golden Boy," written by the American playwright Clifford Odets.

YOU ARE INVITED!...

ALBERTA TRADE-MARKED GOODS...WHAT ARE THEY?

You'll be hearing about Alberta Trade-Marked Goods during the Edmonton Exhibition. They're on display at the Exhibition grounds in one of the largest tents in Western Canada. So perhaps we had better explain about them.

Alberta Trade-Marked Goods have two great distinctions. First, of course, they are produced in Alberta. And second, they can be purchased from their producers by means of Government Treasury Transfer Vouchers. Both these points are pretty important. In regard to the first it is generally agreed that this Province has some of the finest facilities for manufacturing in the world. An abundance of excellent raw materials... unlimited power... the skill and initiative of progressive people—these hold the promise of greater achievements to come.

And of achievements already attained the Alberta Trade-Marked Goods display in the big tent on the fair grounds is fitting testimony.

Then there's the second point: that one in regard to Treasury Transfer Vouchers. This is of direct interest both to the merchant and to the consumer. The merchant knows that because a commodity bears the Alberta Trade Mark he can replace it merely by filling out a Treasury Transfer Voucher on his account at the Treasury Branch. And the consumer knows that if he demands the Alberta Trade-Marked article when he makes a purchase and uses a Treasury Transfer Voucher for his purchase he will receive a 5 per cent consumer bonus at the end of the month.

But there's another consideration. It stands to reason that by specifying the Alberta Trade-Marked product in preference to other goods the consumer is helping his Province and his fellow Albertans.

That's mighty important too. Although each Alberta Trade-Marked product does not as yet bear the special design of the map on the maple leaf, this will be the chief means of identifying more and more products belonging to this class of goods.

So look for the Alberta Trade-Mark. Demand Alberta Trade-Marked Goods. This is your assurance of quality and satisfaction.

Display of TRADE-MARKED GOODS Better Than Ever!

Come to the Fair. Come one, come all. Come by all means. And don't miss the grand display of Alberta Trade-Marked Goods opening Monday at the Exhibition Grounds.

This year's display is a greater attraction than last, according to Mr. L. P. Denis, director of Promotional Activities for the Provincial Marketing Board. Including exhibits of various government departments there will be some sixty booths in the display, Mr. Denis said.

Last year's show was a great success, he recalled. It was estimated that more than 100,000 persons inspected the two shows at Calgary and Edmonton. But the facilities used last year are not big enough for the current showing.

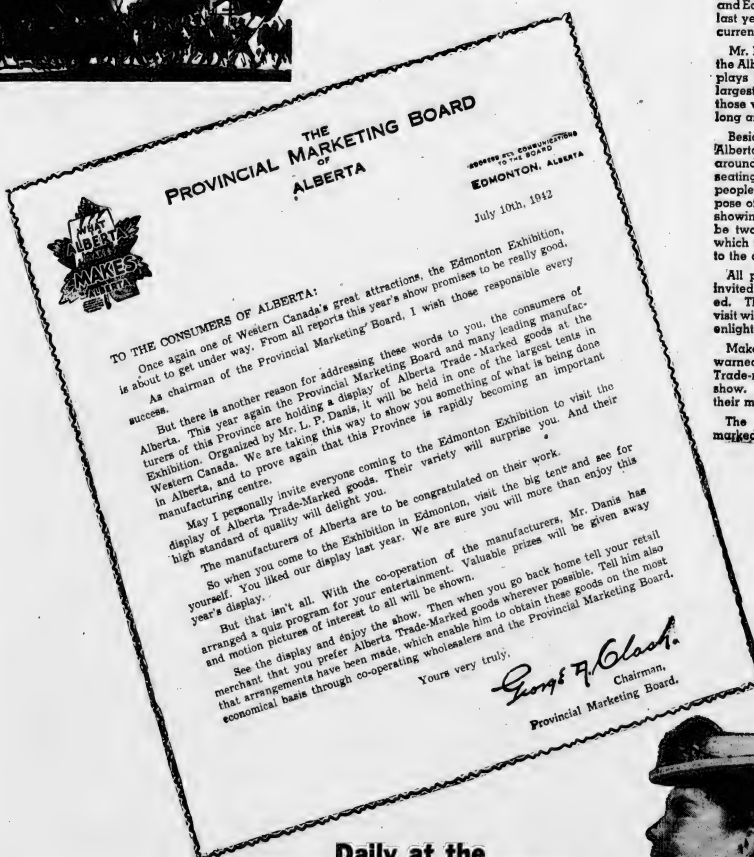

Mr. Denis explained that this year the Alberta Trade-Marked Goods displays are opening in one of the largest tents in Western Canada. For those who like statistics it is 105 feet long and 70 feet wide.

Beside the booths of the various Alberta manufacturers arranged around the side of the tent there is seating accommodation for 450 people. The seats are for the purpose of holding a quiz program and showing motion pictures. There will be two shows per day, at each of which valuable prizes will be given to the audience.

All patrons of the Exhibition are invited to the tent, Mr. Denis stressed. There is no admission and a visit will prove both entertaining and enlightening.

Make no mistake about it, he warned. Alberta Manufacturers of Trade-Marked Goods have a real show. Albertans can be proud of their manufacturers.

The display of Alberta Trade-marked Goods will show you why.

Shipments of Cheese and Eggs to Britain Steadily Increased Despite Problems

Swiftest growing industry in Canada, is production of dried eggs, chiefly for shipment to England. These "Grade A" eggs are ready to be carried to breaking room. Three dozen make one pound of powder, retaining all food value of eggs.

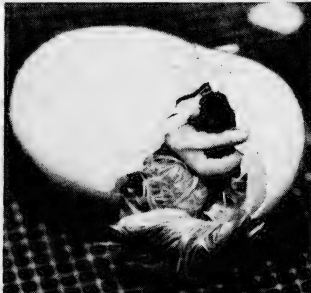

By grading all cheese prior to shipment, every pound of Canadian cheddar shipped to England is known to be up to standard. Photo shows government grader at work.

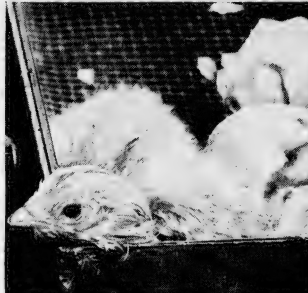

Convoys daily defy the Nazi submarine blockade to carry food to the people of Britain and the Canadian Army. Increases in shipments of cheese, powdered eggs, bacon and other products testify to the vast war effort of the Canadian farmer.

This debutante is running her own coming out party. The hatchery industry, becoming one of agriculture's leading specialties, now produces 50,000,000 chicks every year.

Debbie is progressing with her work. She is one of more than 20,000,000 chicks hatched yearly on farms. Planned production is overcoming wartime farm problems.

"Hello!" Debbie's out and looking for work. Perhaps she'll contribute to the powdered egg industry, which this year will ship over 15,000,000 pounds to England.

"Let's get on with the war!" demands this barred rock chick. The Department of Agriculture is guiding new hatcheries to keep them spaced out across the country.

Canadian cheese producers expect this year to exceed contracts for shipments to England, as they did last. Photo shows man testing aroma of curd after milling.

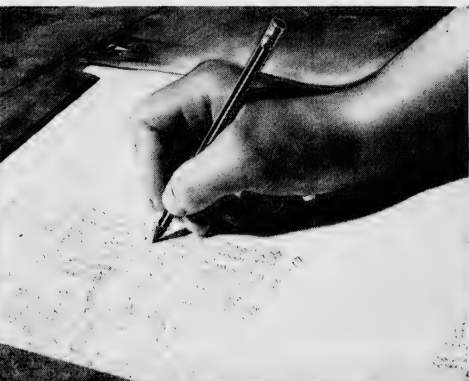

Pasture and crop conditions augur much greater excess of cheese production over contract than in 1941, when conditions were comparatively poor. In 1941 contracts called for 112,000,000 pounds; 115,000,000 pounds were shipped to England. New contracts set 125,000,000 as goal. Photo shows delivery of milk at a cheese factory.

The kitten, forbidden to enter the milk shed, slipped in with the photographer. Electric milkers are widely used in dairy industry, though manual method persists.

High quality of Canadian dairy products is appreciated by this calf, enjoying a meal at the milk stand. Herds have been increased to meet growing needs as importance of food as war weapon places greater responsibility on the farmer.

In spite of production difficulties, shortage of labor, supplies and materials due to the tremendous demands of war industries, cheese production continues to increase. Milk sheet at cheese factory shows daily deliveries by farmers.

Canadian cheddar cheese is regarded as best in world, winner of many international prizes. This young man is putting the hoop on a cheese after it is banded.
